✠HOLY WEEK✠

Some of you will be away over the next few days. I hope that you will be able to celebrate Easter in church wherever you may be. For all of us at home or away it is a week of reminders and remembrance of what we aim to live by and believe in in our everyday lives. Not always consciously or intensely but inspired to seek the values and virtues that our faith leads us to try and cultivate. We are a community that depends on what God has done for us and continues to do for us. Providing signposts on the pilgrimage of life as well as the sustenance we need to keep us going. We don't take these great gifts of God for granted. The Passion and death of Jesus perfected and purified a supreme offering that has become in return a great action of thanksgiving and worship which we gather to celebrate in the Mass. There we are fed with that very Bread which is easily overlooked but is fundamentally the gift which unites us to Christ and if we allow it creates bonds between us more powerful than human affection or solidarity. How blessed we are to know this.
