SOME SAINTS THIS WEEK

Augustine Zhao Rong & Companions – 120 Chinese martyrs for the faith who died between 1648 and 1930. They were canonised by St Pope John Paul II in 2000, representing many more.

Benedict (484-547) – One of the most influential saints of the Christian era. Abbeys, schools, hospitals and missions all over the world testify to his great spiritual legacy. St John Paul II declared him the Patron Saint of Europe.

Henry – (973-1024) Duke of Bavaria who was elected German Emperor, he was an outstanding ruler of his day and used his power to spread the faith and promote virtue and justice.

Camillus (1550-1614) Former soldier from a noble family who decided to consecrate his life to care of the sick. The order he founded (Camillans) still runs hospitals and provide medical chaplains.

JULY – MONTH OF THE PRECIOUS BLOOD

The 1st of July used to be designated the Feast of the Most Precious Blood and that led to the whole month being dedicated to this devotion. These customs should not be allowed to lapse. So much has been lost or let slip of things that helped to remind us of the central truths of our faith. Even in the Protestant tradition there is great emphasis on the saving blood of Christ.

"The first step in humility is for a man ever to keep the fear of God before his eyes, and thus effectively prevent forgetfulness. He must always keep in mind every command that God has given, remembering that hell sets on fire for their sins those who despise God. He must too be always working out in his heart that eternal life which is prepared for those who fear God. On his guard every instant against sins and vices, whether of the thoughts, the hands and feet. or self-will..." (From the Rule of St Benedict for Monasteries)
